SHORTAGE IN WHEAT

Chicago, Aug. 22.—That the world's wheat crop this year will be the smallest in the past ten years and that the world is in strong need of a substitute for wheat, were the statements yesterday of James A. Patten, upon his return to Chicago from Europe.

"The wheat crop shortage really is so great," he said, "that it appears that a substitute must be found. What that substitute could be I am unable to say. Corn seems first to suggest itself, but people could not live on corn bread."

In regard to business conditions abroad Mr. Patten said:

"I do not think the serious crop situation in France has been greatly exaggerated. The best posted grain men in Antwerp believe France will need to import 100,000,000 bushels of wheat this year to make up for the crop deficiency."

"Conditions in Germany are almost as bad, although not so much has been heard of them. Excessive rain in Northwestern Europe has radically changed the situation the last six weeks."

"Much depends on the outcome of the Argentine crop, and conditions in that country are being watched closely by the European grain trade."

The Best Hour of Life is when you do some great deed, or discover some wonderful fact. This hour came to J. R. Pitt, of Rocky Mt., N. C. when he was suffering intensely, as he says, "from the worst cold I ever had. I then proved to my great satisfaction, what a wonderful Cold and Cough cure Dr. King's New Discovery is. For, after taking one bottle, I was entirely cured. You can't say anything too good of a medicine like that." It's the surest and best remedy for diseased lungs, hemorrhages, grip, asthma, hay fever, any throat or lung trouble. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by A. H. Cox & Co.

THE SEPTEMBER EVERYBODY'S

The September Everybody's Magazine is noteworthy beyond even its own standard of excellence, in that it contains the initial instalment of a new series of articles by Lincoln Steffens. Indeed, in many ways the series may be fairly characterized as the most important that Mr. Steffens himself has ever undertaken, and for the author of "The Shame of the Cities" and "The Struggle for Self-Government," this is saying a good deal. The series carries the novel title "It—An Exposition of the Sovereign Political Power of Organized Business." It is a study of Wall Street along the broadest lines, and promises to be of national significance.

Eight stories make up the fiction of the number, including two "Little Stories of Real Life," and the concluding instalment of a "Successful Wife," the anonymous serial that has been so widely discussed. "Law and Order" is a Texas and New York story by O. Henry, one of the last from the pen of that brilliant writer. "The Man Who Ran Away from New York" is a love story by Walter Prichard Eaton. Beside these articles and stories there are four poems, and the usual departments, critical, editorial and humorous. The number is charmingly illustrated.

FATAL FREAK OF LIGHTNING

Disaster Accompanies Extraordinary Thunderstorm at Picnic in Germany.

An extraordinary thunderstorm disaster occurred the other Sunday at Plozenze, in Germany. Thousands were picnicking and strolling on the Jungfernhöhe, when the thunderstorm broke, and many people took shelter from the pouring rain under the trees bordering the Johannis cemetery, which is surrounded by wood palings strengthened with iron. Suddenly there was a fearful clap overhead, and the lightning striking a neighboring house passed through the building into the earth, and was carried underground to the cemetery palings, where it left the ground and ran along the wire clean through the crowd. For a moment everyone was deafened, blinded and stunned. When they recovered the ground was littered with the bodies of a hundred men and women, some motionless, others writhing and screaming. Help was promptly summoned, and ambulances were hurried to the scene. Six persons were found to be dead, and 13 were suffering from partial paralysis, most of them being also badly burned.

THE NEGRO'S COMPROMISE

Cheerfully Tapers His Rattlesnake Story Down to a Believable Basis.

Joseph A— is a pickaninny of many virtues, but sadly given to exaggeration. One day when I had him pulling weeds in the front yard he ran into the house with eyes big as moons and cried:

"Law, Miss Minnie, what do you think? I dun kill three big rattlesnakes out in de yard."

"Now, Joseph, you know that is not so."

"Well, now, Miss Minnie," he insisted insinuatingly, "it wuz two terrible big snakes, an' I killed 'em fo' sho'!"

Determined to convict him, I insisted, "You know you did not kill two snakes, Joseph."

He thought a moment, then said impressively: "Well, now, I did kill one powerful big snake in dat very front yard."

"Ga away, boy; you are an outrageous story teller!" I cried, indignantly. He was not one whit abashed by my vehemence, but cheerfully replied:

"Well, 'lare for goodness, Miss Minnie, hit was a powerful big worm!"—Delinicator.

MONUMENTAL TALKS.

The agent for non-resident firms tells you what bargains he is furnishing in monuments; how in some way he is saving a deal of freight selling work at wholesale, owning large manufacturing plants, and possibly owns a quarry or two.

But possibly he forgets to tell you what commission or salary he is getting for selling work, what his traveling expenses are per month; also that he would be of no use to the firm he works for unless he made them a profit in addition to these extra expenses; that in any saving of freight or some other expense it is the local dealer who has the advantage; that the best satisfaction and best terms in buying monuments are obtained from buying direct from some reliable dealer and not through agents; that the best work is not obtained from the "cheap John" talkers, and cheap work is dear at any price.

We do not employ agents. Cramer's monuments are dependable in every way. Give us a chance to show you what he can do, then if for any reason you do not think to your best interests to patronize the home dealer we will be glad to give you the names of other reliable dealers. It is not necessary to buy through agents and pay the extra salary or commission.
